

Testimonial for Dr. Joe Niamtu, III, and Staff

Betty Tidwell

I had a big facelift, and upper and lower eyelid reduction procedures completed seven months apart with Dr. Niamtu and his team. Originally, I wanted the actions performed at the same time but cataract surgery on my eyes demanded more time for healing before the eye lid procedure could be performed. Without a doubt, I had positive experiences each time and each result exceeded my expectations. From the times I walked to the reception desk, and consulted with each member of the team, I felt only care for my needs and concern for my good health and well being.

I wanted these procedures made for a very long time. When I was ready, the question was with whom I would have this done. After completing on-line research and reading several medical journal articles, I made three appointments with different doctors for consultations. Other than education and work experience, there is little specific information available for the layperson when it comes to general questions and procedures concerning each individual doctor's practice. Many times I was told by the receptionist I would have to come in for a consult to have my questions answered, except for Dr. Niamtu's www.lovethatface.com. He has the most informative and comprehensive website I could find. Because of that website and Dr. Niamtu's transparency, I started my first consultation visit with him and never looked further; I cancelled the other two appointments.

As a potential client, one goes through several levels of conversation within the team memberships before a contract is made. And with every level, I felt total respect and genuine concern for what I wanted to happen from each team member. Having read Dr. Niamtu's bio and work experience information I gave him top billing with only limited reservation before I met him. When we first met, I found him direct, frank, candid, straightforward, and one who took my concerns seriously. It's his demeanor that took away all my reservations. I trusted him immediately. And with that trust, and his gifted expertise, and his experienced cohesive team, I have nothing but praise for the experiences and results I've had with Dr. Niamtu and his staff. I truly, love that face! I recommend to thoroughly read his website, ask questions, listen to what is said, and follow directions and you, too, should be delighted with the results found with Dr. Niamtu and his team.
